

2011 February Guess that Plant:

Chinese Lobelia, Lobelia chinensis Lour.

Prostrate and creeping, this invasive lobelia is now becoming established in the freshwater tidal waters of the Delaware River. First discovered on the Rancocas Creek and Mud Island in the 1980's and is now found on gravel shores north of Philadelphia.